THIS is just the season, and the weather for a Top Coat. They will be in great evidence this fall. We're prepared to show you many confined styles both in patterns and make. The tailoring is everything to a Top Coat. Ours will appeal to you because of their drape and hang and that characteristic style that distinguishes our clothes from all others. Better get into one early, according to the "weather man."

Top Coats $10 and up to $25

THE popular double-breasted sack finds great favor in our fall showing of Men's and Young Men's Clothes. This coat, to look just right, requires careful tailoring—the best. That's why H. S. & M. hand tailored clothes will appeal to you in the double-breasted sack especially. The new grays in plain shades, stripes and overplaids and the subdued brown colors enter into the most popular fabrics.

WOODRUFF HERE

BIG SNAGBOAT ARRIVED FROM THE UPPER OHIO.

Has Done a Great Deal of Good Work—Left for Cairo Today.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the U. S. snagboat E. A. Woodruff arrived from Evansville, which place she left Monday morning for the purpose of tearing up sunken boats and pulling up snags which were in the river between there and Paducah. At her wheel was Hugh Crouse, the well known pilot of this city, who boarded the boat at Evansville to give Capt. Christian location of snags and wreckage. The big boat laid at the local wharf all night and at 6 a. m. left for Cairo to clear the channel between here and that place. She will return tomorrow.

She is in command of Capt. W. H. Christian, who drew up the plans for the boat thirty-two years ago, and who has been in active command for the last twenty-seven years. Her hull, which is lined with steel, is 220 feet long, 48 feet wide, with a depth of 7 1/2 feet. She is 73 1/2 feet wide over the guards and has twenty-six water-tight apartments. She has two propelling engines of 20-inch bore and six feet stroke, a steer steaming apparatus, four rotary steam capstans and four wrecking engines.

When viewed from the front, the Woodruff looks as though she were built on two separate hulls, each coming to a sharp point and forming a V where they come together. Projecting from these points is a huge derrick, attached to the end of which is a mammoth steel beak, resembling that of an eagle in shape. By means of this beak, wrecked boats and barges are torn to pieces, which are carried down the stream by the current, thus removing the obstruction.

The grappling hook used on the E. A. Woodruff is a mammoth affair, weighing in the neighborhood of two tons. Capt. Christian's office aboard the boat is cozy and provided with every convenience. The twenty-six water-tight apartments are a safeguard against the loss of life.

Good Work in Mayfield.

A religious wave has struck Mayfield, according to the statement of residents of the Graves county seat, and the good people of that county are enjoying a second big church revival meeting. Several weeks ago the Baptist church held a revival service and in a few weeks gained 110 additions to the church. Now a Christian church revival is being held and although it started only last Sunday, there have been thirteen additions already and a great deal of interest is being taken in the meeting.

THE BEAVERS.

The Latest Secret Social Order to Come Here.

The Beavers is the latest secret order to enter. There are the Elks, Eagles, Buffaloes and similar organizations, but no Beavers.

"The Beavers" have selected Owensboro as the initial site in Kentucky for a dam or lodge. "The Beavers" are a southern product and the first social order to launch its craft upon the sea of fraternity south of Mason and Dixon's line.

It was organized in Birmingham, Ala., in March, 1904, and shows an enrolled membership of more than 12,000 in thirty-three of the leading southern cities.
